

The Settlement Office (Osídlovací úřad) and the National Renewal Fund in Prague (Fond národní obnovy): the location, staffing and organizational structure of their headquarters and regional offices between 1945 and 1951

This article analyzes organizational developments and changes in personnel in the National Renewal Fund and the Settlement Office between 1945 and 1951. In the period immediately after the Second World War, these two offices were responsible for righting wrongs and dealing with issues relating to the confiscation of "enemy" property.
